

Transcript of Auslan Promo: "Cricket Australia - Auslan Access" (18/10/2017)

How exciting I have just been selected for the Australian Cricket Team. YES!
No no, Im just being silly!

But I do have some exciting news! Cricket Australia has partnered with Auslan Stage Left and at some upcoming 2017 / 20128 matches, you will see Auslan interpreters! The matches include Australian Womens and Mens Ashes, ODI and T20 matches - around Australia. Impressive!

There will be an Auslan interpreter on the screen at the game for pre match entertainment i.e. welcome, announcements of teams, national anthem. There is also Auslan access for the awards presentations at the conclusion.

This is pretty exciting!

Unfortunately this access won't be seen on TV coverage. Cricket Australia has been working hard to try and have Auslan interpreters on TV however this is going to take some time.....So, come to the games and see Auslan on the big screen!

I want to acknowledge and thank Cricket Australia for the wonderful support of access and for including the Deaf community, allowing us to feel like a part of the game like anyone else. So thank you.

Womens Ashes:

AUS plays ENG on THIS Sunday 22 October at Allan Border Field, Brisbane QLD.

The pre match announcements , introductions and team line up will be interpreted, along with the Australian Anthem.

The match starts at 9.15am.

See you there!
